UNITED STATES HOLOCAUST MEMORIAL MUSEUM

Hate and Its Impact Sowing the Seeds of Global Antisemitism

Antisemitic rhetoric, symbols, and ideology that were largely invisible from mainstream society are increasingly visible and commonplace today worldwide. Join us to discuss how age-old myths, lies, and symbols, like the swastika, have been reframed to stoke public fear and perpetuate modern forms of antisemitism.

Expert panelists will discuss where antisemitism began, how it laid the groundwork for the Holocaust and became state policy in Nazi Germany, and why antisemitism continues to be a divisive and destructive force globally. They'll look at what we can learn from history to combat the current increase in antisemitic beliefs and violence.

The event is the first in the two-part Hate and Its Impact series. The second program in the series, Nazi Ideology and Racism in the Jim Crow South, will explore the link between racism and antisemitism and how pervasive they still are in America today.

Panelists

Richard Allen Greene, Senior News Editor, Data and Integration, CNN

Dr. Deborah E. Lipstadt, Dorot Professor of Modern Jewish History and Holocaust Studies, Emory University

Brendan Murphy, Distinguished Holocaust Educator and Teacher Fellow, United States Holocaust Memorial Museum

Moderator
